

Physics Colloquium

Dr. Jay Wacker
Stanford Linear Accelerator Center

TITLE: New searches for sub-gravitational forces"

ABSTRACT: Atom interferometers have become the most accurate measurement devices. I will review atom interferometry and then discuss how to use current atom interferometer technology to improve limits on searches for fifth force experiments.

Monday November 26, 2007
4:10-6PM - Room 55 Roessler